An advance detachment of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York State National Guard, left about 6 a. m. today for Camp Drum for the annual active duty training period of the battalion.

The main body of the battalion, some 400 strong, will leave at 12:01 a. m. Friday.

The training period is for two weeks beginning Saturday, July 25. The men will return to Kingston Saturday, August 8.

To Travel in Trucks

The 156th Battalion consists of Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Battery A and Service Battery, all stationed at the armory on Manor Avenue, and Batteries B and C stationed in Poughkeepsie.

The battalion will "motor-march" to Camp Drum and proceed to the bivouac area which is 10 or 12 miles from the main cantonment.

The detachment which left this morning consisted of three officers and 10 men.

220-Mile Drive

The main body will make the 220-mile trip to Drum along "secondary" roads, but will return by Thruway.

The motorized units will proceed Friday along Route 9W to Saugerties, thence to Cairo, Middleburg, Sharon Springs, Richfield Springs and Middleville, stopping for breakfast near Canada Creek.

It will then proceed through Boonville, Lowville, West Carthage to Great Bend, thence to the bivouac area.

Receive Trophy

One of the highlights of the encampment will be the presentation of the Eisenhower Trophy to Headquarters Battery of Kingston on August 5 during an artillery review and presentation of trophies.

The Eisenhower Trophy was won by the local battery as the outstanding unit during the annual training period last year. It is the top award offered in New York State.

Relatives and friends of Guardsmen were advised today by the local Guard on addressing of mail to members while they are at Camp Drum. Addresses are to include name of Battery, First Howitzer Battalion, 156th Artillery, Camp Drum, N. Y.

It was reported today that some 50 enlisted men of the local battalion are attending the six-

JACQUELINE GAY HART
Search Is Futile For Socialite At Airport Last

SHORT HILLS, N.J. (AP) — Baffled police admitted today that their search for missing socialite Jacqueline Hart, 21, has been futile.

Underwriters Probe

Her father Ralph Hart, executive vice president of Colgate Palmolive, pleaded with telephone callers to "keep the line open." He also ordered a second telephone installed in his home, where he and his wife waited "hoping to hear something any minute."

Route Was Difficult

"If this isn't stopped soon," Chief Merrick said, "this city is very apt to have a fire of major proportion and we want to do everything to avert that." The chief said the public can assist in the apprehension of the person or persons responsible for the fires.

To Guard Information

Chief Martin said that any information regarding descriptions of persons seen loitering around buildings prior to the discovery of fires, will be kept in strict confidence and the identity of the informant will not be disclosed.

Route Was Difficult

"The fires last weekend definitely were set," Chief Merrick said. He noted that a two-alarm fire was opened before Gaines had flown to Pittsburgh but returned here immediately after learning she was missing.

Jacqueline's car was found locked, parked in the airport parking lot. Police conducted an exhaustive search of airport grounds, and the marshes surrounding the field. They were joined by a Coast Guard helicopter.

Youths Are Sought

Police said they were looking for some youths with duct-tailed haircuts Gaines said he saw loitering near the airport.

Police did not say they thought Jacqueline had been kidnapped.

An FBI spokesman in Newark said today that his office was "maintaining liaison with police" in the event it appears there has been a federal offense.

Ulster Vols Will Open County Parley Tonight

The opening event tonight in Rosendale of the 1959 convention of Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be a dinner at 7 o'clock in the halls of Rosendale Reformed Church and St. Peter's Church.

Following the dinner there will be a floor show and entertainment at Tillson School, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

On Friday evening the annual business session for election of officers will be held at Tillson fire house at 8 o'clock.

Climaxing the convention, which is the guest of the Town of Rosendale Fire Departments, will be the big four division parade on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Starting at Tillson the parade will proceed to old Route 32 at Springtown road junction, then over old Route 32 to Rosendale, down Station Hill and through Main Street, Rosendale, to Sportsmen's Park where it will disband.

An unusually large number of fire companies and auxiliaries will be in line with several bands heading the various units.

Cool Atmosphere Greets Nixon in Moscow; Soviet Hits U. S. for 'Tyranny'

Ave Calls Nixon Sure Candidate

Doubts Tensions With Reds to Ease

WASHINGTON (AP) — Averell Harriman, former governor of New York, says he is "utterly convinced that Vice President Nixon will be the next Republican candidate for president."

Nelson Rockefeller, Harriman's successor in Albany, is regarded as Nixon's chief rival for the nomination.

Speaks for Press Club

Harriman, speaking Wednesday at a National Press Club luncheon, said Nixon "thoroughly represents the Republican point of view."

Harriman also told club members of his recent trip to Moscow, where he talked with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The ex-Democratic governor said "anyone in America who thinks we are going to see a relaxation of tensions with the Soviet Union is mistaken."

"The Soviet Union's eight million Communists who rule the country are out to destroy everything we believe in," he asserted.

Doubts All-out War

Harriman said he doubted whether Khrushchev would launch an all-out war on the United States "because he knows the risk is too great. He may bluff and bluster because he thinks he is in a tough tactical position with regard to Berlin. But as for plunging into war, I can't believe he would do that."

Asked about Khrushchev's health, Harriman replied:

"Strolling with him in a garden or woods one day he walked uphill as fast as I could and I am a fast walker. That night at dinner he ate everything but seemed to go light on butter. I saw nothing to indicate his health is not good. He may be getting a little plump as some of you are here and maybe."

Current Turned Off

The bridge authority when it meets July 31 should have more definite indications as to how the opening of the new western approach road has affected travel over the span.

To Discuss Plans

Problems pertinent to planning for the new western approach road are also due for discussion at the session. One, it is expected will deal with silt which will be removed from the Hudson during construction.

Federal regulations prohibit dumping it elsewhere in the river after it is removed from the site of the bridge.

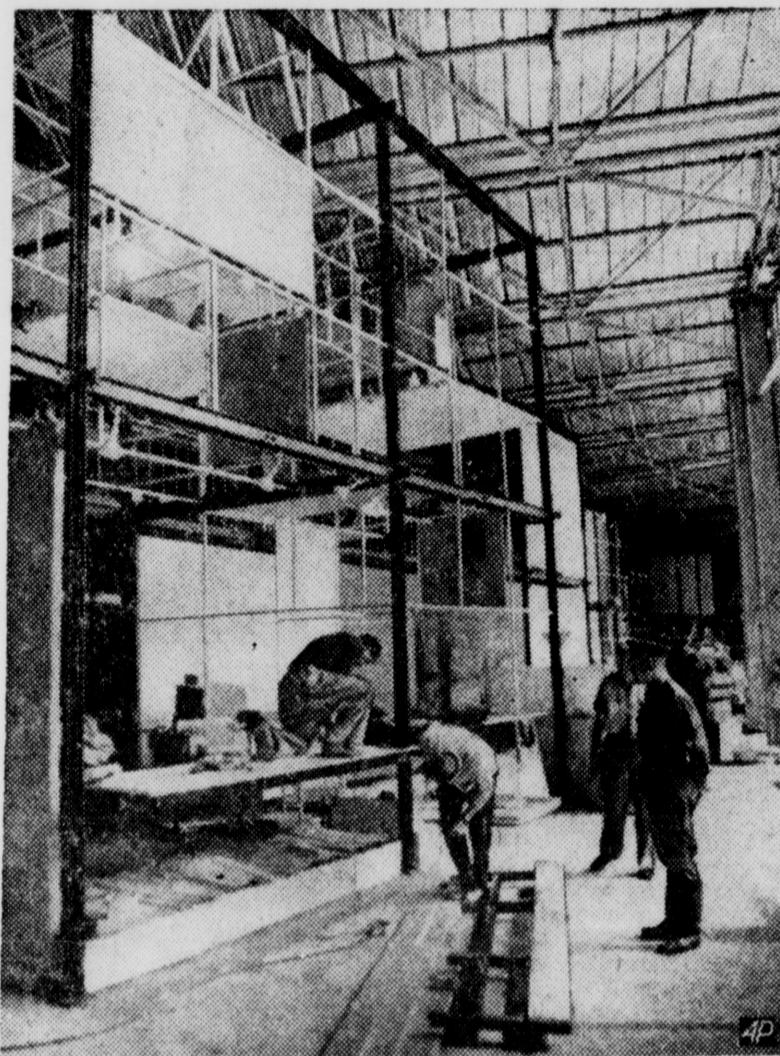

The Newburgh-Beacon span is still in the blueprint stage, and the authority is faced with problems pertinent to financing it.

Route Was Difficult

Before opening of the Route 9W-32 spur to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, travel to it from the west side was over a circuitous network of city streets and secondary roads.

The bridge was opened before

Dutch Reporters Visit Local Area For Stories Data

Two correspondents for papers in The Netherlands were in Kingston Tuesday during a tour of the itinerary to be followed by Crown Princess Beatrix in September.

They were greeted by Harry Rigby Jr., a member of the executive committee of the New York State Commission on Historic Observances, and briefed on local plans for the visit of the princess, who is scheduled to arrive Friday, Sept. 18.

The two men were Paul S. Sanders of Het Parool (The Password) of Amsterdam and Arnold Vas Dias of Nieuwe Rotterdamsche Courant of Rotterdam.

Visit Historic Church

While in Kingston they paid a visit to the historic Old Dutch Church where Princess Beatrix is scheduled to sign the Book of Remembrance, as her mother, Queen Julian, did in 1952. The church is celebrating its 300th birthday.

Miss N. Y. Runnerup

The UCLA dancer major has blue-green eyes, stands 5 feet 6 1/2 inches and measures 36-23-36. She was selected Wednesday night before 4,000 spectators.

Runners-up, in order, were Miss Texas, Carelgene Douglas; Miss Florida, Nanita Greene; Miss Georgia, Dorothy Taylor; and Miss New York, Arlene Nesbitt.

"Baste Flicka," shouted Miss Sweden above the applause in Memorial Auditorium, when her roommate's victory was announced. This roughly translates to: "She's a beauty," explained Miss Sweden. She was so happy over Terry's victory she cried.

Miss U.S.A. remained composed as she sat on the queen's dias and received the pearl-studded crown, while reporters shouted and cameras popped pictures. But she began to cry beautifully when her brother Phil, 22, resplendent in his Army uniform, stepped up and embraced her.

Brother Was Confident

"I knew you could do it, Sis," said her crewcut brother, a June graduate of the U.S. Military Academy.

Then her mother, Mrs. Iola Huntington, of Mount Shasta, in northern California, elbowed through newsmen, photographers and hangers-on and took her daughter in her arms.

Miss U.S.A. wants to become a dance instructor for a few years, and then settle down and raise a family.

But first, she'd probably like to be Miss Universe.

Kaye Window Fire Not Holding Up Business

A fire said to have started from a short circuit in a display window light damaged a section of the two-story stucco building, housing Kaye Sportswear, 46 North Front Street, last night.

Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, who manages the store for his brother, Louis W. Kaye, owner of the building and business, today was unable to estimate the extent of fire loss, but said it appeared not to be serious.

Louis Kaye, on vacation, was due to return today.

Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford said he was told that Mrs. Nathan Greenberg, an occupant of the second floor, was carried from the building by a Mr. Landerman, whose full name and address were not obtained, and efforts to day to obtain further information were without result.

Alderman-at-Large Kaye said yesterday that both the police and firemen did "a terrific job" and he particularly praised the firemen for keeping damage to a minimum. Business was still in progress at the store, he said.

Damage was confined largely to the display window area where the fire started. Second-floor timbers were charred and an area was opened to get at the blaze and some smoke and water damage was reported.

Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations, the Wicks salvage unit, Excision Hose and the Wiltwyck volunteer unit answered a call at 11:09 p. m. Cordts and Union hose companies were on a stand-by order.

The short circuit, Sanford said, started the blaze in the "false ceiling" of the display window.

Both the police and firemen and an official of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., early today checked reports of a pungent odor of gas near tanks off East Strand, but it was found that there were no leaks. It was thought that milder, constant odors in the area might have been intensified by heavy, humid air following yesterday's rain.

Snyder Praises Jaycees in Talk Wednesday Night

The July meeting of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Highlighting the meeting was an address given by Frederick Snyder, world traveler and lecturer.

Snyder lauded Kingston's Jaycee Teenage Rodeo winner, Clifford Booth of Accord, upon his having won fourth place in the State Jaycee Teenage Rodeo, having competed with some 80 other contestants from throughout the state. Snyder presented him with collector's items mugs from the Indianapolis Speedway, a collectors item pressure gauge and a new pen.

Snyder, an auto enthusiast, stressed the importance of highway safety and praised the Jaycees for their splendid efforts in stressing safe driving among the youth of the community, state and nation.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Ludwig Wojtowicz, about 61, was killed Wednesday night when the automobile he was working beneath slipped off a jack and crushed him. The accident occurred on his farm.

Matter of FACT

In ancient times the moon was worshiped as a goddess who ruled the night. The old moon was believed to have a bad influence, while the new moon was considered favorable for all kinds of undertakings. Crops were planted at new moon so that they might draw strength from the growing moon. Mothers often cut their little girls' hair at new moon in an effort to make it grow long and thick.

Week's Business Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Varied cuts of beef and pork are featured this week in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Rib roasts and steaks seem to have a slight edge over chuck and hamburger meat in number of offerings. Prices of the more expensive cuts are irregularly lower, meaning that reductions in price outnumber advances. In most cases changes are in the 4 to 6-cent range.

Pork specials similarly run more to the higher priced items such as hams. Pork chops are marked up 3 to 4 cents a pound in some areas, but oven-ready eggs are mostly unchanged.

Outstanding vegetable bargains this week are sweet corn, snap beans, cucumbers, new potatoes, radishes and green onions. Good buys include cauliflower, celery, Western topped carrots, endive, escarole, broccoli, tomatoes and yellow onions — although somewhat higher this week.

Moderate buys include egg plant, lettuce and peppers.

Outstanding fruit buys are bananas, pineapples and limes.

Kennedy Lashes Out at Hoffa; Asks Public Help

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy, Senate rackets committee counsel, hurled a barrage of charges against James R. Hoffa and his Teamsters Union Wednesday and urged a nationwide television audience to support a labor reform bill.

Kennedy said Hoffa and some of his associates "feel they are above the law, that they can fix judges, fix juries, and fix even members of the legislature."

Appearing on NBC-TV's "Tonight" program, Kennedy said Hoffa has been "doing things in 1959 as bad as the things we brought before the committee that he had done in 1955 and 1956."

Asks Reform Bill Now

Kennedy said the Senate Rackets Committee is going out of existence this year. He strongly urged passage of the labor reform bill this year. He said Congress would be reluctant to pass it next year, a presidential election year.

The bill, introduced by Kennedy's brother, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Sen. Samuel J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC), has been passed by the Senate but has been in House committee five weeks. It is expected to come out with considerable changes.

Kennedy said Hoffa and his representatives have "threatened and harassed" congressmen not to pass the bill. But he said "more than 12 postcards" from constituents would make any congressman think twice before voting against the bill.

No Credit to Chief

He said Hoffa deserves no credit for the high wages that Teamster Union members have received through their contracts. He said the high wages are restricted mostly to eastern states, where Hoffa played no part in negotiations, while wages in the central states are low. Kennedy said Hoffa had been most active in the contracts in central states.

Jack Paar, the TV program's master of ceremonies, asked Kennedy why the union's membership does not overthrow its leadership.

"There is absolutely nothing they can do," Kennedy replied. He said any member who attempted to overthrow Hoffa and his associates would jeopardize his job. He also said the Teamsters constitution prohibits many members from running even for local offices.

Essay Winners Set For Holland Visit

Janet Marie Dolan, Wallkill Central School pupil, of Wallkill, and five other state-wide student essay contest winners conducted by the New York State Commission on historic observances, will leave Albany airport at 9:45 a. m. Wednesday, July 29, on the start of a flight to the Netherlands.

The students will be accompanied by two teacher winners of the contest.

On Thursday, July 30, two Dutch youngsters will take off from Amsterdam for a two-week visit as guests of the Village of Waterford, New York, where they will take part in several Year of History events. All expenses for the Dutch youngsters will be paid by the Waterford Youth Council.

The six New York students will fly from Albany to Idlewild where they will board the KLM Royal Dutch Airliner for Amsterdam, according to Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, chairman of the State Commission on Historic Observances.

The New Yorkers are expected to arrive in Amsterdam at 9:30 a. m. on July 30. A reception has been scheduled at the airport and then the group will be taken to the Central Hotel in the Hague. A reception is also planned for that evening.

Joel Epstein, who is representing the state commission as tour director, said the tentative itinerary calls for the six students and the two teachers to visit Amsterdam, The Hague, Rotterdam, Scheveningen, Maartensdijk, Vollenhove and the Zuider Zee. The group also plans to visit a cheese manufacturing plant, a flower auction market and the many harbors in the Netherlands.

'Ghost' Marriage Held

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — A wedding ceremony was held today for two lovers who drowned themselves four days ago because their parents would not let them marry.

Ushers supported the bodies of Chen Wu-chi, 20, and Miss Tsai Chao-tze, 18, and made them bow to each other.

A Taoist priest officiated at the "ghost marriage," to which the grieving parents consented. The lovers were buried in the same grave.

Sept. Pavlak of the Greene County Sheriff's Office, Hill was found guilty of the willful destruction charge involving the cutting of a number of trees on land owned by Mrs. Paula Poelath of Palenville.

Mrs. Poelath claimed that 112 maple trees, 44 pines and 28 oaks had been cut down and removed from her property during the later part of 1957.

Hill was arrested on a bench warrant October 25, 1958 by Sgt. James Buckler and Trooper Joseph Valicenti, BCI of Leeds state police sub-station. Damage to the trees and road and cost of clearing up the site was estimated at about $5,000, according to the information.

THE LOSS OF GOLD

The New Deal economists did not believe in a gold base for money. They fussed over the question and in a large measure had their way. President Roosevelt had the gold hoard of the country buried at Fort Knox; citizens were not permitted to have gold coins; gold certificates were removed from currency.

For a long time, however, the American dollar was the only stable currency in the world and the American dollar stood firm. Nevertheless, our gold hoard has been reduced by two processes—by export and by earmarking. We prefer to regard earmarked gold as still ours, although our relationship to it is only that of a caretaker who should relinquish it immediately when called upon. Professor Walter E. Spahr, one of America's greatest authorities on money, gives these startling figures:

"Foreign withdrawals of Treasury gold . . . began during the week following February 19, 1958. On that date Treasury gold stood at $22,785,000,000. For the week ending December 31, 1958, the Treasury's gold was down to $20,526,000,000, a decline of $2,259,000,000 in forty-five weeks. For the week ending May 13, 1959, the Treasury's stock was $20,251,000,000, down $2,534,000,000 during the sixty-four weeks since February 19, 1958."

Actually, earmarking has increased. According to Spahr, earmarked gold stood at $8,664,300,000 on March 31, 1959—an all-time high. One can go into considerable statistical material to indicate what has been happening to our gold. Suffice it to say along with Professor Spahr that the situation is serious. He bases such a statement on the following data:

" . . . The withdrawal of gold in 1958 amounted to 12.3 per cent of total foreign short-term dollar claims at the end of that year plus gold withdrawals for the year and involved 9.9 per cent of our Treasury gold stock at the end of the year plus gold withdrawals for the year.

"Thus we have 12.3 per cent of claims exercised and 9.9 per cent of gold stock withdrawn in 1958 as compared with an average of 3.5 per cent of claims exercised and 1.3 per cent of gold withdrawn during the period 1922-1957."

Whereas, in this country we continue to ignore the importance of the gold standard, European countries are clearly preparing for such a restoration. They are strengthening their gold reserves and are seeking to build their own economic facilities by reinforcing the value of their currency.

The question that needs to be answered is how much gold can we afford to lose without the psychological effects setting in which could destroy the value of our currency. The value of the American dollar, as of any currency, must be premised on confidence and confidence is based on a complex of facts and assumptions, upon statistics but also upon rumors.

It is not sound statesmanship or competent banking to wait until it is imprudent to permit further export or earmarking of gold. Obviously it is too late to wait until an embargo must be placed on gold, as that would destroy confidence in the dollar altogether.

It does not make sense to continue to permit the piling up of foreign claims against our gold, particularly as Americans in the United States are not permitted to have any. But an American in Europe or in Asia can purchase gold or gold certificates and keep them in foreign banks.

It is significant that most earmarked gold remains in the United States which displays confidence in our stability and in our future. There has been no flight of capital in this sense. There has, however, been a steady export of American capital abroad to evade high taxes, high American labor costs and the exclusion of American goods in the areas where preference is shown to products of area manufacture, as in the Common Market, for instance.

When the United States subscribes to the International Monetary Fund or to the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development or to foreign aid, it usually pays in whole or in part in gold. If goods manufactured in the United States are supplied, the payment is made in dollars.

It would not seem to be provident to permit claims against our gold hoard to pile up at a time when the hoard itself is being reduced. This is a case in which our agency of government is permitting itself the luxury of improvidence while another agency has to count its pennies.

★ Your Child's Health ★
Many Things Influence
The Growth of Children
By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

All sorts of interesting observations are being made on growth. For example, a recent bulletin from a large life insurance company pointed out that children today are taller and heavier than those of a generation ago, not only in the United States, but in other countries as well. Besides growing bigger, faster, children apparently attain full adult height somewhat earlier in life than they did in the past.

The explanation for this involves some guess-work, but may include increased knowledge of good nutrition, the better availability of food-stuffs, a general rise in living standards and a lessened frequency and severity of some of the childhood diseases.

It is also possible that hereditary factors play a part. However, another report throws some doubt on this. It reveals that American-born Japanese children in California were significantly taller and heavier than comparable children born in Japan.

But most people write me not about averages, but because one of their children is growing too fast or too slowly. Concern over slow growth or small size is certainly most common among the parents of boys from nine to 12 years old. One reason for this is that at this age, boys are frequently smaller than girls of the same age. However, many a boy who seems up taller to his teens suddenly shoots up and ends up taller and larger than some of his classmates who were bigger than he at an earlier age.

For practical purposes it is questionable whether any special injection, exercise or food can be relied on to increase the height. The diet almost certainly has something to do with height but a well-balanced diet with enough to eat is probably all that is necessary. But work on this subject is going on.

There are many things which influence growth. To some extent size runs in families. As was said recently: "It is ridiculous for parents who are, say five feet 2 inches tall and whose ancestors before them were of comparable size, to expect sons six feet tall. It is ridiculous for parents who are more than six feet tall to decry the fact that their 18-year-old daughters are five feet 10 inches tall."

A word should be said about girls who seem to be too tall. Sometimes this is a result of tallness in the family. Much of the time nothing could or should be done to hold this growth back. However, there are occasional instances in which the growth can be held back by giving the girl endocrine preparations. Needless to say, this can be done only after careful study of certain factors connected with growth and the particular younger, and then only with great care and frequent followup observation by the physician.

Fat Western Imperialists No Longer Ride in Rickshas

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Eisenhower's plan for reorganizing the White House had a forerunner three years ago when ex-President Herbert Hoover proposed the creation of an office of "Administrative Vice President of the U. S." He was to be appointed by the president, confirmed by the Senate. He was not to be an elected official.

The Senate subcommittee which heard Mr. Hoover's testimony was presided over by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). It didn't take to a forerunner's proposal. So the idea was dropped. And the Hoover Commission itself did not make a formal recommendation for White House reorganization.

In the first Hoover Commission report, there had been a recommendation that 33 of the 64 executive agencies then reporting to the president be put under the supervision of another White House official. This was done to a limited extent while ex-Gov. Sherman Adams was assistant to the president. But the system is now changed.

But Mr. Eisenhower told his last press conference that he does have a government reorganization plan all set up. He will present it to Congress in 1960, his last year in the White House.

In this way there can be no thought that President Eisenhower himself would profit by it. But he wants to leave his successors better organization.

WHEN MR. HOOVER FIRST CAME UP WITH THIS IDEA FOR A "SECOND VICE PRESIDENT," HE WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMISSION ON ORGANIZATION OF THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF GOVERNMENT.

Testifying before a Senate subcommittee on government operations, Mr. Hoover declared some relief must be given the U. S. presidents if "we're going to keep them alive."

He recommended an "administrative vice president" to ease the chief executive's job. This AVP would not be given any of the president's constitutional responsibilities. He would be strictly a detail man.

He would take off of the president's shoulders such jobs as approving concert tours for armed service bands, determining Army rations, signing diplomas for graduates of government schools and chores like that.

MR. HOOVER OPPOSED enlarging the present vice president's job to make him responsible for these odds and ends. President Eisenhower doesn't approve of either. That suggestion came from Sen. John L. McClelland (D-Ark.).

The Senate subcommittee which heard Mr. Hoover's testimony was presided over by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). It didn't take to a forerunner's proposal. So the idea was dropped. And the Hoover Commission itself did not make a formal recommendation for White House reorganization.

Having a birthday, July 25, is Mrs. Ernest Eckert, the former Janie Beesmer, who is a native of Samsonville.

Francis Leyman, Big Indian postmaster and general storekeeper for many years, was a recent caller in the village. The old stone building has been demolished to make way for the new Route 28 alignment through the Shandaken village. Mrs. Leyman has planned to sail this week for Stockholm, Sweden.

William Short, Ruby farmer and War I veteran, was here Saturday in company with his neighbor, Martin Christiansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bode and small son, Junior, are spending a vacation in the Cape Cod area.

Another cloudburst visited Shokan Monday afternoon. The deluge kept up for half an hour and old timers said they never saw it rain harder.

Stopping at the museum Saturday were Joseph and Rose Palago, New York couple who are building a home on their Route 375 acreage between West Hurley and Woodstock.

Former residents in town recently included Merritt Evans and brother-in-law, Frank Morris of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Kennedy Won't Yield on Negro Cops for Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy says he will not yield to pressure to detail more Negro policemen to Harlem.

"My policy is that the police department must be integrated," he added. "I will not make assignments on the basis of either color or religion."

Kennedy's declaration came a day after Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr., Negro congressman and clergymen in Harlem, had recommended more Negro policemen in the large Harlem Negro area. Powell said practically all Negro police had been transferred out of Harlem and asked that "a goodly number be transferred back."

Powell made his complaint on Tuesday at a City Hall conference of city officials and Harlem leaders concerning problems in the neighborhood.

Kennedy, who attended the closed City Hall meeting, called a news conference Wednesday to amplify his declaration at City Hall that he would not assign policemen on the basis of color.

Kennedy said at the news conference that tensions in Harlem "crystallize and take form and burst in the policeman's face when he makes arrests."

"One has to be hypocritical not to recognize it," he added. "The police there cannot do anything about it."

Kennedy called Harlem a "segregated ghetto" and said it is suffering from "inferior housing conditions, poverty and with discrimination in many fields."

The commissioner said that to make Harlem "a black precinct" might be easier and more practical, but "simply not right."

"One cannot bend principle to the winds of hysteria and expediency," he said.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dr. William Lindsay Young, former moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A., died Tuesday night in his sleep. He was 66. Dr. Young also had served as vice president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and was president of Park College, Kansas City, Mo., from 1936 to 1944.

CHICAGO (AP) — William Riley Loring, 64, editorial artist for the Chicago American for 16 years, died Wednesday in his suburban Evanston home. He had been a newspaper artist for 40 years and had worked on the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Lee Bledsoe, 71, former President Harry S. Truman's White House gardener, died Tuesday. No breed of cattle is native to the Western Hemisphere, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Police Still Seek Escapee

BALTIMORE, N. Y. (AP) — Police were on the alert today for Theodore Holton, 20, an escapee from a mental hospital, after their full-scale manhunt Wednesday was unsuccessful.

Holton, of nearby Indian Falls, was believed dangerous and armed with a rifle, shotgun and perhaps a pistol.

About 75 police, aided by a bloodhound, searched a 10-mile square area on and around the Tonawanda Indian Reservation Wednesday but could find no trace of the fugitive. He apparently slipped through their roadblocks and patrols, they said.

Holton escaped from Rochester State Hospital nine days ago after he had been sent there for observation. He was arrested on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Diver Loses Life

ALEXANDRIA, N. Y. (AP) — George H. Baker, 18, was injured fatally Wednesday when his underwater diving equipment became fouled and one of his lungs was ruptured. Baker was diving near Wellesley Island, his residence in the St. Lawrence River.

TB Waiting List Revealed

TB is not licked. This warning has been issued repeatedly and the present patient census at the TB Hospital on Golden Hill bears out its truthfulness according to Dr. Herbert F. Schwartz, medical director of the hospital.

Dr. Schwartz states that during the first six months of 1959 the patient days have averaged 93% of capacity, and, during the month of June the census at one time rose to 51, one above the full normal capacity, with a list of TB suspects awaiting admission. This condition has since been corrected.

An examination of the ages of TB patients admitted and treated during the first six months of 1959 reveals the following:

1 up to 2 years of age.
3 from 2 to 10 years of age.
4 from 10 to 20 years of age.
5 from 20 to 30 years of age.

It has been many years since the proportion of young persons as patients has been so high. The significance of this situation is not quite clear at the present time. Whether it represents a fresh onslaught of the disease, or whether it is due to the "flushing out" of a covey of infectious cases will be determined at a later date through the continued ceaseless efforts of the Ulster County Health Department, the Ulster County TB and Health Association and the Ulster County TB Hospital Staff all working together to combat this disease.

Part of the answer lies in the increased clinic attendance which is running about 16% higher than in previous years. This has been stimulated by the high rate of pneumonia and other respiratory ailments which was prevalent during the past winter.

Oppose Gas BoostN.Y. Solons Have Own Ideas On Paying for Road

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Western New York congressmen today rejected a proposed 1½ cent gasoline tax increase and pressed instead for their own plans to finance the nation's highway program.

Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R), Attica, called for a bond issue to spark the stalled interstate highway program while Rep. Thaddeus J. Dulski (D), Buffalo, urged transfer of auto excise tax money to the highway trust fund.

Pay-as-You-Go Favored

"The most practical approach to the problem," Ostertag said of his plan in testimony prepared for the House Ways and Means Committee, which is investigating the hi-way finance question.

Dulski said the transfer of auto excise taxes to the trust fund would keep the interstate program on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Bills embodying both plans have been introduced by the congressmen.

Ostertag said President Eisenhower's plan for a 1½ cent per gallon boost in the gasoline tax has found little support in Congress.

Without that tax, the Bureau of Public Roads says there won't be enough money in the highway trust fund to carry out scheduled apportionment of construction funds for the fiscal year, which began July 1.

Under Ostertag's plan, revenue bonds to provide the needed funds would be retired by continuing present taxes earmarked for the interstate highway system beyond their 1972 expiration date.

By this method, Ostertag said, highway users will continue to bear the cost of the interstate system's construction.

Calls Boost Unrealistic

In addition, Ostertag maintained his bill would allow the federal government to reimburse states for superhighways included in the interstate system.

New York could receive almost 800 million dollars for construction of its Thruway under such a plan, Ostertag said.

In his prepared testimony, Dulski said he was "vehemently opposed" to any gas tax increase and added it is unrealistic to expect the motorist to pay the full cost of the interstate system.

Other classes of people benefited by the new highway system should pay their share of the cost, Dulski said.

Ulster Vols Will Form in Tillson Saturday 4 P.M.Will Change Name Of Paltz State Teachers College

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State University's teachers colleges will be called "colleges of education" as of Sept. 1.

The university board of trustees said Wednesday it had decided to standardize the names of the institutions.

Presently, nine of the colleges are called "teachers colleges" and two, "colleges for teachers."

The trustees said college of education would be more appropriate because the institutions serve as research centers as well as train teachers.

The name of the community in which the college is situated will become part of the name. For example, the institutions here will be called the College of Education at Albany.

The other colleges are at Brockport, Buffalo, Cortland, Fredonia, Genesee, New Paltz, Oneonta, Oswego, Plattsburgh and Potsdam.

24 Escape Injury as Limping Plane Lands

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — A United Airlines plane, one of its two engines disabled, landed safely Wednesday night at Broome County Airport with 21 passengers and a crew of 3.

No one was injured.

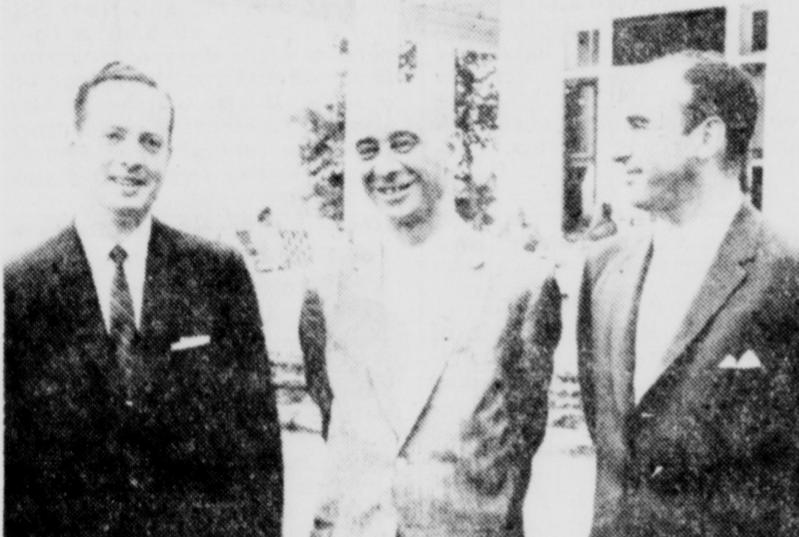

Capt. Mike Baring told the airport he believed carburetor trouble caused the engine to fail near Elmira.

The Convair 440 was enroute from Boston to Cleveland. Another plane took the passengers to their destinations.

Nasser Blames Reds

CAIRO (AP) — President Nasser blamed the rift between Iraq and the United Arab Republic on communist intrigue Wednesday night and called for close friendship with a unified, independent Ba'ath regime.

Nasser's remarks appeared to be a response to Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem's olive branch a few days ago, when Kassem said the Arabs should close their ranks and let bygones be bygones.

Discuss Adult Education

Town Justice of the Peace William D. Brinnier, III, of Saugerties (left) discusses adult education law courses with Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz (center) and Robert W. Dettor of Syracuse, chairman of the adult education committee. The "Law Everyone Should Know" course was the topic of the annual summer meeting of the Young Lawyers Section of the New York State Bar Association held recently at Saranac Inn. Justice Brinnier is vice chairman of the committee. Mrs. Brinnier also attended. Brinnier is a member of the executive committee and represents the Third Judicial District. He is currently director of law adult education for the Hudson Valley.

Vets' Rest Camp May Be Closed In Economy Move

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's administration is seriously thinking of closing the Mt. McGregor Veterans Rest Camp as an economy move, it was learned today.

The facility, in Saratoga County, would not be abandoned completely but would be converted for other state purposes.

It might be turned into a mental institution or a center for treatment of drug addicts.

These and other possible uses for the camp are being studied by the governor's economy-hunting teams. The rest camp costs nearly a million dollars a year to operate.

It was revealed Wednesday that the same economizers were looking into the possibility of closing part or all of the state-owned Spa at Saratoga Springs, which has been losing money at the rate of about a half million dollars a year.

Efforts to close the camp were made two years ago, during the administration of Democrat Averill Harriman. The camp was established in 1945 as a convalescent home for veterans. The facility has been treating about 3,000 veterans a year.

During Harriman's administration there were charges that the camp was used by veterans as a vacation resort and to recuperate from bouts of alcoholism.

The accusations were denied by the Division of Veterans Affairs, which operates the camp.

Nevertheless, the 1957 Legislature cut $684,338 from the camp's appropriation, in agreement with Harriman. The camp was to have gone out of operation June 30.

However veterans groups clamored to keep the camp in operation and the funds were restored at the special session in June 1957. Rockefeller's budget for fiscal 1959-60 appropriates $969,325 for the camp.

The governor could close the facility by failing to include funds for it in his next budget.

fire that damaged the Bollinger building on Crannell Street last Saturday and the fire that was discovered in the cellar of a factory building on North Cherry Street Sunday, definitely were set by someone.

Want to See Man

Police officials are still trying to learn the identity of a shirtless man who ran into Niagara firehouse last Saturday morning and shouted to Fireman Joseph Davis there was a fire in a factory on Crannell Street a block away. Authorities have issued a public request for the man to communicate with police as they believe he might have seen someone loitering near the Bollinger building before or at the time the fire was discovered.

Chief Merrick said two separate fires were burning in the building when firemen arrived. One was in the first floor hallway and the main blaze was on the second floor of the brick structure.

the main approach spur was built because of a problem which arose in obtaining right-of-way over one tract along its alignment, and construction of the spur was delayed because of a swamp area west of Route 32. Work on the bridge was well advanced before the right-of-way problem was solved, and the Grandview Construction Corp., of Mt. Vernon, contractor on the spur project, lost months because of the complex swamp problem.

Raleighs Are Still Hopeful Their Boy Will Be Found

Hopes that five-year old David Raleigh, who so mysteriously disappeared from the Winnisook Lake fishing dock last month, may still be found is entertained by his parents.

In a letter sent to Sheriff Claude Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart F. Raleigh Jr., of Fayetteville, express their appreciation for the cooperation and assistance given by Sheriff Bell and his staff during the weeks of intensive search.

Grateful for Help

"Mrs. Raleigh and I are grateful to you and your men for the tireless and thorough manner in which your department has acted. We are hopeful that your continued interest may yet help lead to the solution," Raleigh wrote.

In the letter just received by Sheriff Bell, Raleigh expressed his thanks "to you and the men under your command for your fine efforts in the search for my son, David, in the Winnisook areas last month," Raleigh wrote.

David Raleigh was last seen on the fishing dock at Winnisook Lake when a sudden storm broke over the area and the fish-city and Spaso House, the residence of U.S. Ambassador Lewellyn Thompson. That will be his home in Moscow.

There were about 200 Soviet and foreign newsmen present but only a small crowd of Russians at the airport itself.

As Nixon's car headed around the airport building he spotted a large group of travelers, mostly Russians, on the plaza of the administration building. He ordered the car stopped, jumped out and began shaking hands.

A small crowd then collected around the car and Nixon, beaming, shook hands with everyone. Then he got in his car and resumed the trip to the city.

It was anticipated he and President Eisenhower's brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, and other members of his party, would closet themselves with Thompson and his principal aides for a final briefing on Soviet affairs.

Arrival Not Announced

Nixon's arrival was not announced immediately either by Moscow Radio or the TV network. Both were using their facilities to cover a friendship rally for Poland then being addressed by Khrushchev in the Sports Palace.

Rubble has been trucked to the lowlands almost as fast as it was felled under the swing of the heavy crane of John Arbore, Inc., Poughkeepsie, the contractor. A permit is expected to be obtained soon for burning the lowlands pile.

Sub-drainage work in the area, meanwhile, has been progressing rapidly, and soon the traffic pattern in the area will begin taking form.

Traffic continues moving slowly at the city end of the project, and drivers are again reminded of Acting Police Chief Robert F. Murphy's advice to avoid the area unless it is absolutely essential to travel there. Patrolmen assigned to the site have kept traffic moving as quickly as possible.

Ritual Not Announced

The proclamation of this week as "Captive Nations Week" in the United States had hit a raw nerve here. Khrushchev first spoke of it at Warsaw Tuesday. Wednesday, Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, loosed a half-page blast against the United States.

Today the Soviet premier spoke of the "capitalist tyranny" that he contends is really the thing that holds some nations captive.

It was strictly protocol for Kozlov, rather than Khrushchev, to meet Nixon at the airport. Nixon met Kozlov at the current Soviet exhibit in New York, which President Eisenhower also saw.

The vice president's jet plane arrived at 3 p.m., Moscow time, after a non-stop flight from the United States.

Defense Bid Is Boomerang

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
One of the disadvantages of the Blackwood convention is that the defenders have a chance to double the Blackwood response to call for a lead against the eventual slam contract.

East's double of five hearts is a bad example of this type double because it boomeranged against him.

Dummy's eight won the opening trump lead and the queen of clubs finesse lost to West's king. West led a second trump and South won in his hand, played the ace of clubs and ruffed a club in dummy.

Now South went into executive session with himself. He had to get back to his own hand to ruff his last club. East had doubled five hearts for a lead and West had lead another suit. Maybe West just wanted to lead a trump or maybe West just didn't have a heart to lead.

South decided not to give West a chance to trump and returned to his hand with a spade. Now he ruffed his last club in dummy, came back to his hand with another spade and spread his hand.

Living Fossil

The gingko tree, a living fossil, originally grown about the temples in China, has existed essentially unchanged for some 10 million years.

5 Rules for Buying Beef

1. BUYING AT A DEPENDABLE MARKET. A good part of your problem is solved when you find a market that consistently handles the grade of meat which meets your demands. Most reliable butchers are glad to explain differences in cuts and grade and otherwise help their customers with their meat problems.

2. BUY GOVERNMENT-INSPECTED MEAT. Government inspection guarantees that the meat was from a healthy animal, was processed under sanitary conditions, and was fit for consumption when it left the packing house.

3. BUY BY GOVERNMENT GRADE IF YOU ARE NOT ABLE TO RECOGNIZE THE GRADE YOU DESIRE.

4. LEARN TO RECOGNIZE GRADES. The best beef has a bright red lean, a white or creamy-white fat, and a fairly liberal dotting of the lean with particles of fat. Cuts from the lower grades have a dark lean, very little fat, and the fat is yellowish or bluish-gray. Between these two extremes are many gradations.

5. CHOOSE MEAT SUITED TO YOUR PURPOSE. Most people serve a higher grade of meat and a more palatable cut for a dinner party than for a family meal. Most housewives would not use sirloin for stewing meat, but it is just as out of place to broil a low-grade cut. The relative waste and price of different grades and cuts should be carefully considered.

Breakfast count: There are about 100 calories in each of these—a large orange, a cup of orange juice, half of a large grapefruit, two cups of tomato juice, four large prunes, two slices of cooked bacon, one and one-half slices of bread (plain or toasted), a tablespoon of butter or margarine and two-thirds cup of milk.

To Help City, He Says
The union manager stated it is important to remember that the success of the campaign is important to many people of this community. "It will make a substantial contribution to the welfare of our city," Riccardi said.

At Tuesday's meeting, Riccardi introduced Saul Nesselroth, regional director of the label campaign, who came to Kingston from the International office in New York City. He has been attending meetings of various locals concerning the promotion of the union label.

Nesselroth said the campaign will feature a brand new, top-notch fashion service. "We are getting some of the country's leading experts on fashion to prepare a series of booklets on such subjects as how to dress economically; how to tell the difference between fads and fashion; how to dress becomingly; how to coordinate colors and how to plan a career in fashion," Nesselroth said.

Will Call on Others
Nesselroth said that the booklets as well as fashion films will be made available locally. He said that the union has a nationwide reputation for community service, and it's only natural that the label campaign should be used as another means of serving the community.

Riccardi added that the committee will seek to enlist the cooperation of other unions and various clubs in the area. He further said the committee will ask retailers to feature apparel containing the union label.

Activities for Dignitaries Planned on Assemblage Day

Saugerties Assemblage Day committee at its special Tuesday night meeting at the home of Chairman Vincent Amrod awarded the refreshment concession to a local merchant and made plans for the reception of visiting dignitaries at the annual event scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 15.

Edward Feldmann, who operates Eddie's Delicatessen on Partition Street, was awarded the refreshment concession for the day. Another bid was received from the Saugerties Jaycees who ran the concessions last year.

The committee named Robert A. Snyder of Saugerties chairman of the reception committee to greet visiting dignitaries. Snyder is clerk of Ulster County Board of Supervisors. The committee was discussing the possibility of having the reception committee conduct a guided tour of facilities and places of interest in Saugerties for the dignitaries.

Some who have indicated they will attend include State Senator Ernest I. Hatfield of Poughkeepsie state chairman of the 350th Hudson-Champlain Celebration Committee; State Senator E. Ogden Bush of Walton, representing the 34th senatorial district, embracing Ulster County; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock; Col. Joseph A. Barrett Jr., commanding officer of Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh; Mayor R. C. Murry of Rhinebeck and Mayor John L. Kelly of Hudson.

At the committee meeting in the afternoon at the Exchange Hotel it was announced that Pete Ferrao and his orchestra will play during the day through an arrangement with Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, Kingston with funds provided by a grant from the music performance trust fund of the recording industry.

Johnny Michaels and his orchestra will play music for dancing at Cantine Field tennis courts in the evening.

Following the opening ceremonies in the morning a parade featuring displays of area industry and businesses on the village streets throughout the business district. Various displays furnished by the Armed Forces will also be exhibited throughout the area and at the municipal building and Cantine Memorial Field.

One of the service attractions will be a 50-foot long aircraft carrier on wheels to come from Quonset, R. I. It will be escorted by the mobile destroyer from Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, one of the attractions of last year's Assemblage. The 45-foot scale model destroyer and the carrier appearance were made possible through the arrangements of Chief Petty Officer Leo Boland of the Navy Recruiting Office, Kingston.

To enhance the entertainment program planned, the committee will explore the possibility of inviting area resorts and night clubs to send one or more of their acts to the Assemblage.

The roped-off area will be similar to last year with a few minor changes.

Asbury Residents To Study Closing Of Rural School

Resident taxpayers of former common school district seven, Asbury will attend an exploratory meeting with members of Saugerties Central School District Board of Education Wednesday, July 29 at 8 p. m. in the Asbury School to discuss the possibility of closing the rural school.

The proposal would involve the transfer of about 19 pupils in grades kindergarten through six to other operating schools in the district.

If closing is favored by the residents of the former school district, the building, site and furnishings would be sold at public auction and the pupils transferred possibly to Main Street School in the village.

The board at its meeting this week hired two new teachers.

Mrs. Beatrice Klein of Woodstock will teach fifth grade at Main Street School, and Mrs. Mae Pepper, also of Woodstock, a former member of the faculty will teach Second Grade at Mt. Marion School.

The board awarded a $1,511.58 contract for football supplies to Stevens & Blume of Newburgh, low bidders.

Summer Meal Makings At Saturday Food Sale

The makings of a cool summertime meal may be purchased at a food and bake sale Saturday, 10 a. m. at the old Candyland store on Main Street, Saugerties.

The sale is sponsored by West Camp Auxiliary of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Harry L. Moose, auxiliary president said the sale will include many homemade breads, cakes, pies and fancy salads for summertime meals.

This is the first time this year that the culinary art of the West Camp Auxiliary will be available at a public food sale.

Traffic Increase Noted on Bridges, K-R Span Leads

Traffic on the four bridges operated by the New York State Bridge Authority for the second quarter showed an increase of 3.4 per cent over the same quarter last year. The Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge showed the largest increase with 16.5 per cent.

John S. Stillman, chairman, reported the total increase for the first six months was 6.3 per cent greater than last year. The Kingston Bridge showed a 19.3 per cent increase for the six months period.

These increases were in spite of the recent decline in traffic on the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill which was attributable to the opening of the State Thruway Authority's Castleton-Selkirk Bridge on May 26. This opening explains the decline of 12.3 per cent on the Catskill Bridge during June, as compared to last year, Stillman said.

The two other bridges showed increases, Mid-Hudson at Poughkeepsie 2.3 per cent and Bear Mountain 7.3 per cent for the second quarter. For the six month period Mid-Hudson showed an increase of 4.2 per cent and Bear Mountain 12.3 per cent. The Rip Van Winkle decrease for the six months period was 7 per cent.

Chairman Stillman further reported that the repainting contract at the Bear Mountain Bridge is proceeding as scheduled and is expected to be completed by October 1959.

In summarizing the situation with respect to the Newburgh-Beacon Bridge project, Stillman said "Approvals of the State Department of Public Works and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads for the contract plans, specifications and estimates for all contracts involving the bridge project are being secured in orderly fashion."

week of inspiration and study courses to improve their skills for work in the local churches. Representatives of Lutheran Churches of New York and New England, as well as New Jersey are attending.

The Rev. Walter Cowen, pastor of Atonement Church, has been appointed chairman of the Lutheran World Action Committee for the Hudson Conference, comprising churches of the Port Jervis, Woodstock, Hudson and Poughkeepsie areas. He will also be automatically a member of the synodical committee. The committee is charged with raising a sum of $200,000 in the Synod for world relief and assistance. Atonement's share in this will be approximately $550 annually. The committee also distributes film strips, literature and sound films showing the work that is being done for refugees, resettlement, food and clothing relief aid to churches in Communist lands. Since 1945 the church has continued this work as well as conducting semi-annual clothing appeals in all Lutheran Churches.

The proposal would involve the transfer of about 19 pupils in grades kindergarten through six to other operating schools in the district.

If closing is favored by the residents of the former school district, the building, site and furnishings would be sold at public auction and the pupils transferred possibly to Main Street School in the village.

The board at its meeting this week hired two new teachers.

Mrs. Beatrice Klein of Woodstock will teach fifth grade at Main Street School, and Mrs. Mae Pepper, also of Woodstock, a former member of the faculty will teach Second Grade at Mt. Marion School.

The board awarded a $1,511.58 contract for football supplies to Stevens & Blume of Newburgh, low bidders.

Red Airliner Debuts

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio reported today that a new four-engine turbo-prop airliner, the Anio has gone into service on Russia's internal air routes.

The aircraft made its first passenger flight Wednesday from Moscow to Simferopol, in the Crimea. The broadcast said it covered the 807 miles in 2 hours 15 minutes at speeds up to 435 m.p.h.

Moscow radio said the plane's designer, Antonov, is working on a new version of the aircraft which will seat 100 passengers. It did not say how many persons the present model carries.

SPACE UMBRELLA — A new entry in the field of manned space capsule designs is the umbrellalike vehicle depicted circling the earth in artist's drawing above. Sketch at left shows the "drag brake" satellite mounted on nose of a rocket at launching. Umbrella ribs are folded and protected by a nose cone. Pilot lies on a contoured couch in the capsule. After the satellite has remained in orbit the desired time, the drag brake is opened. Steel mesh stretched over the ribs would encounter enough air friction to slow the satellite down. Amount of spreading of the umbrella would determine the speed and angle of descent of the satellite and would eliminate the need for backward firing rockets. The designer, Avco Corp., claims that this type of vehicle would permit lower weight, more precise landing control than other kinds.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — You are the biggest hope of the nation's economy today — you, like all the rest of us, being a consumer. And rising consumer purchases and rising consumer confidence are the strongest growth elements at present in the economy.

Business spending plans are up a little — but not significantly yet. Government spending is up — but the increase is still just a drop in the bucket to what you spend. The chances of selling more American goods aren't too bright. On the contrary a further dip in U.S. exports is expected by the experts.

So the economy's continuing growth in the next few months seems up to you to a striking degree.

Steel Strike Figures

And the prospects seem good — with the notable exception, of course, of the communities hit by the steel strike.

The latest survey of consumer attitudes made in May and June by the University of Michigan's survey research center reports increasing confidence among consumers and increased plans for spending.

There are many reasons for this. Take the matter of confidence first.

A sustained rise in stock prices always breeds confidence — whether logically it should or not.

The rapid rise in corporate earnings — in many cases at a much faster pace than the gains in sales and production — makes the state of business look good indeed.

Increased working hours for many, and higher pay scales for many, gives the fortunate ones confidence both in spending now and in contracting instalment debt for future payment.

Now look at the wherewithal out of which present and future consumer spending could come.

Personal Income Climbs

Personal income has climbed to a record annual rate of 383 billion dollars, the Department of Commerce figures. The first half sum is 6 per cent higher than personal income in the first six months of 1958.

Wages and salary totals at an annual rate are 12 1/2 billion dollars higher than at the start of this year.

American consumers as a whole have increased savings tucked away, giving them confidence, dollars in durables. Against this should be balanced the rise in consumer debt, particularly in instalment debt.

And a big item on the liability side of the report at the moment is the steel strike. This will cut into the total of wage and salary payments, consumer purchases in some areas, and corporate earnings in some industries.

Such additions last year are put by the commission as 16 billion dollars in homes and 37 billion dollars in durables.

But unless the strike is a long one, the consumer spending totals look good.

Summons Red Leaders

LONDON (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev has called leaders of the communist bloc in eastern Europe to a conference in Moscow early next month, diplomatic sources in London report.

The British Foreign Office said it had heard the conference would open Aug. 3 but had no confirmation. Western newsmen in the Soviet capital had similar reports.

American MenuRecipes of Old New England*Inn Star in New Cookbook

BY GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Martha's Vineyard, serene island off Cape Cod, is as New England as baked beans, garnished with the stately white houses of old sea captains. Sailboats and power cruisers sweep the blue Atlantic but sooner or later they all steer harborward in time for dinner.

We sat on the wide porch of The Harbor View Inn in Edgartown, discussing menus with our old friends, John S. Packard, the innkeeper, and his wife, Ruth, famous for her flower gardens. When white sails came nearer, gliding in past the lighthouse, John suggested dinner.

The recipes are in The Treadaway Inn Cook Book. Packard, a Yankee gourmet himself and guiding force in the Treadaway Inns, contributed to the collection.

Crab Meat Cakes
(Makes about 12 cakes or 6 servings)

Two slices white bread, 1/4 cup olive oil, 1/8 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, dash paprika, 2 eggs, separated; 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 pound crab meat, about 2 tablespoons butter.

Take the crusts off the bread, put it in a mixing bowl, pour 1/4 cup of olive oil over it, and let stand for 1 hour. Then pull it apart lightly with two forks. Add mustard, salt, Worcestershire sauce, a dash of paprika and the yolks, and blend lightly with a fork. Pick over the crab meat carefully to remove all bits of shell, and quickly mix into the bread mixture. Fold in the whites, stiffly beaten. Form into cakes. Brown on both sides in a heavy skillet in a small amount of hot butter. The cakes may be served with tartar sauce with a little grated horseradish in it.

Roquefort Dressing
One-half cup cider vinegar, 3 ounces cream cheese, salt, dash Tabasco, 2 cups mayonnaise, 6 ounces Roquefort cheese, lemon juice (optional), light cream (optional).

Blend together vinegar, cream cheese, salt and Tabasco. Add 2 cups of mayonnaise and continue beating until smooth. Stir in Roquefort cheese broken into small pieces. The dressing should not be beaten after the cheese is added. A little lemon juice may be added if you wish, and the dressing may be thinned with a little light cream.

Governor Names Group to Study Milk Licensing

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller set up a five-member committee today to look into the controversy over licensing of milk dealers.

Everett Case, president of Colgate University, was designated chairman of the group. Other members are:

John B. Johnson, editor and publisher of The Watertown Times; Frederick W. Crumb, president of Potsdam State Teachers College; William L. Myers, dean emeritus of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell; and John B. Calhoun, New York lawyer.

Rockefeller promised last April, in vetoing a milk-licensing bill, that he would establish a committee to study the situation.

The measure he rejected would have paved the way for licensing of more dealers by removing the agriculture commissioner's power to refuse licenses that would tend to create "destructive competition" in the market.

The bill was sponsored by Assemblyman Robert G. Main (R-Malone). Rockefeller's Democratic predecessor, Averell Harriman, vetoed similar legislation.

Rockefeller said in April that he thought the state's milk-licensing laws should not be changed so drastically without "an independent and careful analysis" of the way they are working.

The governor's office said the new committee would consider the need for legislative revision and report to Rockefeller by the 1960 session of the Legislature.

Members of the committee will serve without salary but will be reimbursed for expenses.

Rosendale, Tillson News

Judging from the variety of items auctioned by the funds realized, the Woman's Club of Rosendale-sponsored auction held last Saturday at Sportsman's Park pavilion, Rosendale, was a success. Merchants and individuals from the area contributed wholeheartedly realizing proceeds would be used to continue the many benevolent and civic activities of the club.

Fred Palmer, of Tillson, well known area auctioneer donated his services to auction the items. Joseph Stein of Stone Ridge made posters for the event and Hollis Harvey, Tillson sign painter, made a large sign which was placed at the entrance to Sportsman's Park.

The 40 and 8 engine loaned by the honor society of the American Legion, made the rounds of the community advertising the event and Mastro's store was headquarters for storing the contributions until the sale.

A combined meeting of the Rosendale Library Association and the Rosendale Library fair committee will be held on Tuesday.

Local Witnesses On Committees For Troy Parley

Ernest Kidd of Hurley, was appointed Monday as assistant cafeteria director for a three-day circuit convention of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the R.P.I. Field House in Troy, Sept. 25 to 27.

Also appointed to oversee the convention departments were H. Douglas Cowan, assistant director of check room and lost and found department and Walter Carter, chairman of volunteer service department.

The appointments were made official by H. Daniel Trapp, Circuit Supervisor from the Witnesses' world headquarters in Brooklyn, preceding a "kick-off" meeting held Monday, July 20, at Troy. Trapp then instructed the 21 department heads to begin now to choose and organize the 200 volunteers workers needed to care for the 1,100 to 1,300 people expected.

41st N.Y. Legion Sessions Begin; Honor War Dead

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — The 41st state convention of the American Legion opened today with a solemn memorial service for the war dead.

Fifteen thousand delegates swarmed into this flag-vested city for what actually will be three conventions.

The legion and its auxiliary began three days of sessions in the War Memorial Auditorium. The 40 and 8 Society, social organization of the legion, met at a downtown hotel.

Tonight the 40 and 8, in their colorful French-style boxcars, start the first of two parades on downtown streets. The legion parade, featuring 35 musical units, will take place Friday night.

The legion and auxiliary were expected to nominate new officers today and elect Friday.

Robert C. Fuller of Parish, Oswego County, is considered the likely successor to A. E. Swanson of New York City as state department commander.

Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson and Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner (Ret.), state director of civilian defense, will speak Friday.

Horatio Greenough, Hiram Powers and Thomas Crawford, all of whom studied in Rome, were the first sculptors in the U.S.

In Zanesville, Ohio, they tell of a young widow who, in consulting a tombstone maker with reference to the monument for the deceased, ended the discussion with:

"Now, Mr. Jones, all I want to say is 'To My Husband' in an appropriate place."

"Very well, ma'am," said the stonemason.

When the tombstone was put up the widow discovered, to her amazement, that upon it were inscribed these words:

"TO MY HUSBAND, IN AN APPROPRIATE PLACE."

NOTICE

The ordinance published herewith has been adopted on the 7th day of July, 1959, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such ordinance may be hereafter contested if any such obligation were authorized for an object or purpose for which the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, State of New York, is not entitled to expend money or for the provisions of law should have been compiled with the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with and an action suit or proceeding containing such a contention within twenty days after the publication of this notice or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

RAYMOND A. MCANDREW
City Clerk

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED JULY 17, 1959, AUTHORIZING PREPARATION OF A COMPREHENSIVE MASTER PLAN FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF THE ENTIRE CITY OF KINGSTON, AN ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST OF $33,000, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $30,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, that the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council, AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, New York is hereby authorized to prepare or cause to be prepared, a comprehensive master plan for the development of the entire area of said City and for said purposes to retain the services of a recognized firm of municipal planning consultants. Any contract in furtherance of said purposes shall be executed on behalf of said City by the Mayor and the corporate seal shall be affixed thereto and attested by the City Clerk. The estimated maximum cost of said special project, to be paid, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $33,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan to be prepared, includes the issuance of $30,000 serial bonds of the City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of and interest on the said bonds the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $33,000 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued in the amount of $30,000, a 61 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by the Local Finance Law to provide down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds hereby authorized or of any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds in accordance with the provisions of $107.00 d. 5 of said Local Finance Law.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the issuance of bond shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by $52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of the issuance of the bonds shall be payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of credit on account.

The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of the same shall be raised annually by tax on all the taxable real property in the City, a sum sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the said bonds and notes as the same shall become due.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law and pursuant to provisions of $52.00 of said Local Finance Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council in preparing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds and notes, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer as the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds and notes authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money or

(b) the provisions of law which should be compiled with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with.

and an action suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of publication of the constitution.

Section 7. This ordinance, which takes effect immediately, shall be published in full, after approval by the Mayor, in THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN and in THE KINGSTON ULMSTER PRESS, the official organ of the County of Ulster, together with a Notice in substantially the form as prescribed by $81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF ULMSTER
IRENE KUSMIERSKI, Plaintiff, against HENRY KUSMIERSKI, Defendant.

TO THE ABOVE NAMED DEFENDANT:

YOU ARE HEREBY SUMMONED to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer, of, if you have not done so, a Notice of Appearance, on the Plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and of your failure to appear, on answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Plaintiff, deceased Ulster County and the place of trial, New York. Dated: November 6th, 1958.

TO: HENRY KUSMIERSKI, Defendant.

The foregoing Summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an Order of Hon. Roscoe E. Elsworth, a member of the Supreme Court, the State of New York, in Ulster County, dated the 3rd day of July, 1959, and filed with the Clerk of the Town of Rosendale, Ulster County, known as Tillson Estates by the Plaintiff, for the protection of the waterworks corporation, municipal corporations, other individuals and the inhabitants of the town of Rosendale, Ulster County, New York, that may be affected by the execution of the plans of Tillson Estates Water Works Corporation for the acquisition of a supply of water supply for the estate development in the town of Rosendale, Ulster County, known as Tillson Estates by the Plaintiff, and for the construction of a waterworks distribution system in that development; plans for which have been filed with the Water Power and Control Commission, at its office in Albany, N. Y., where the same are on file. Inspection is required for the purpose of determining whether said plans are justified by public necessity, whether they provide for the proper and safe construction of all works connected therewith, whether they provide for the proper protection of the supply and watershed from contamination or provide for the proper filtration of the water, addition, if any, that they are just and equitable to the other municipalities and civil divisions of the State of New York and the inhabitants thereof affected thereby, and whether they make fair and equitable provisions for the determination and payment of any and all legal damages to persons and property, both direct and indirect, which will result from the execution thereof.

Paints Gruesome PictureIke Gives Clear Proof Of Dilemma in Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is in a terribly bad spot on Berlin. That is the essence of a gruesome picture painted this week by President Eisenhower.

At a dinner with White House correspondents he frankly talked of this country's huge difficulties in trying to help the 2.4 million West Berliners if the Communists decide to try to shut them off from the West.

He didn't say anything the Russians don't know already. Yet, to understand what he said is to understand the American dilemma in dealing with the Russians at Geneva. The foreign ministers' meeting there began May 11.

Solemn Statements

The solemn Eisenhower statements on Berlin — and their implications — explain why the Russians started this trouble in the first place and why they are being so tough about it.

That trouble can be stated simply: West Berlin, whose allegiance is to West Germany, is 100 miles inside Communist East Germany. This Western outpost, deep in Red territory, has been a pain to the Soviet Union since World War II.

Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin tried to grab the city in 1948 by blockading all Western supplies that moved to Berlin by train or truck. This was easy, since they had to move through Communist-run country.

President Truman could have tried a shoot-through. It might have meant war. Instead, he smashed the blockade by supplying Berlin through a giant airlift. The Russians refrained from shooting down American planes. That would have been war.

Blockade Was Test

Stalin dropped the land blockade. It apparently had been a testing maneuver to see if the West would give up the city without a struggle. He himself then was in a poor position to go all the way, including war.

The United States then had an atomic-bomb monopoly. For 10 years the Russians dropped their attempt—but not their desire—to gobble the city. They used that time to build up strength, atomic and hydrogen bombs and missiles. Now they're probably equal in atomic strength, apparently ahead in missiles, and far ahead in ground-force strength. So Stalin's

Last Nov. 27 Khrushchev ordered the Western Allies to get their troops out of Berlin, and implied the city might be cut off from access to the West if they remained.

But the presence of the troops is as visible evidence to the West Berliners that they have Allied protection and support. The West refused to remove the troops.

Airlift Doubtful Now

Why is the West so concerned about anything Khrushchev says? Can't a new airlift smash a new blockade, just as in Truman's time?

The answer lies in Eisenhower's statements this week, since the Soviet Union today is in far better position to risk a showdown with the West than in Stalin's time just 11 years ago. This is the picture Eisenhower painted it:

He said—if there is a new Berlin blockade—he believes the tactical military position of the Western Allies would be just about as poor as possible.

Tougher to Crack Now

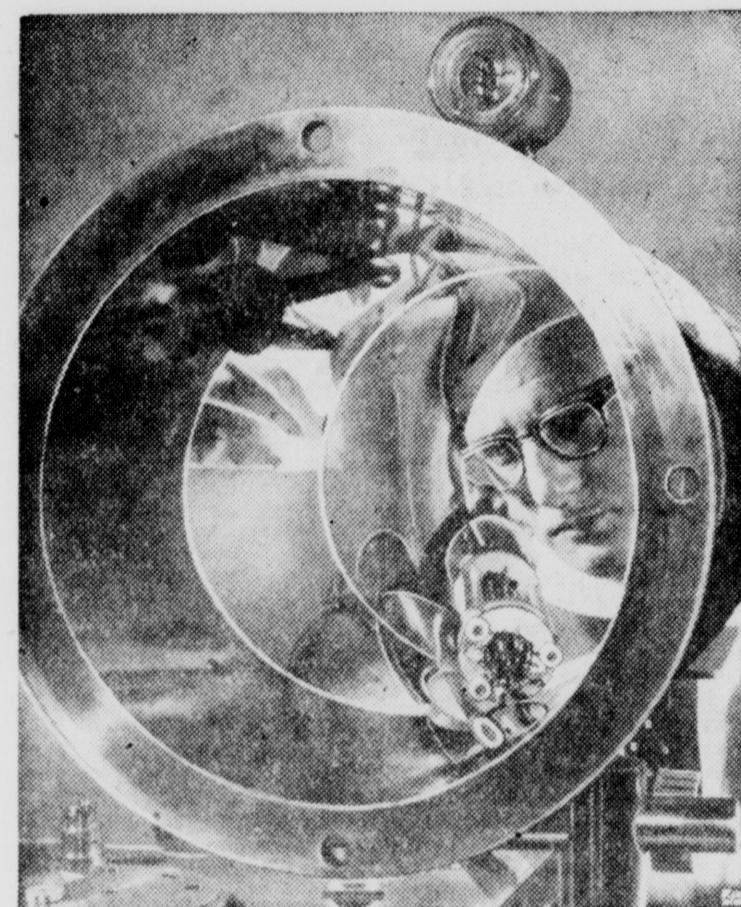

The President said a new blockade would be much tougher to crack than the one 11 years ago. He feels, he said, the Allies could not supply West Berlin with enough of the raw materials its economy needs.

Yet what he didn't say—although it is clear enough—is this:

The United States can't stand idly by and see Berlin lost without jeopardizing the entire Western alliance whose members' confidence in their combined will to resist the Soviet Union would be sadly damaged if not destroyed.

French Drama Acquired

NEW YORK (AP) — The French suspense drama, "Odd Man In," has been acquired for American presentation by the Broadway organization, Theatrical Interests Plan. Actor Barry Nelson previously planned a production here but ran into casting difficulties. The play ran for three seasons in Paris and is now probably equal in atomic strength, apparently ahead in missiles, and far ahead in ground-force strength. So Stalin's

The Route 209 Improvement Association was one of the organizations which expressed its endorsement to planned improvement of Route 209 from the new Route 17 interchange in Sullivan County easterly to Wurtsboro-Summitville, Phillipsport and Spring Glen, when the public hearing opened this morning at the Summitville firehouse.

Sidney Sinick, president of the Association presented a letter placing the Association on record as "heartily endorsing the contemplated plans of the State Department of Public Works to improve Route 209 from Wurtsboro to Spring Glen," and he urged that this program be undertaken with "all speed and dispatch that is humanly possible."

The Route 209 Improvement Association, organized by residents, business men and industrialists in communities from Port Jervis to Kingston, has taken a most active part in the move to get this important link between Pennsylvania and the New England states on the construction list. It is considered the economy "life-line" of communities from Port Jervis to Kingston since these communities at the two extremities depend heavily on the highway for economic existence.

The public hearing scheduled by the State Department of Public Works at Summitville got underway at 10 o'clock and was expected to continue through the afternoon. All interested persons were to have an opportunity to express themselves.

Nixon Uses Russian To Stress Peace Theme

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon made his first try at speaking Russian at the airport on his arrival here today, wading right in with the phrase "long live peace."

He said it summed up the feeling of the American government and the American people. His smiling effort to speak the language drew scattered applause and a ripple of amused laughter from the airport crowd.

Nixon has been trying to bone up on Russian phrases and just before he left home he admitted that his efforts thus far were "pretty poor."

Clancy-Diamond Wedding Takes Place
July 19 at Immaculate Conception ChurchMR. AND MRS. HENRY E. DIAMOND
(Photo Workshop)

In a double ring ceremony at Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday, July 19 at 2 p. m., Miss Joan Ann Clancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clancy of 51 Third Avenue, wed Henry Edward Diamond, son of Mrs. Louise Diamond of 21 Hanratty Street, and the late Charles Diamond.

The Rev. Joseph Sieczek, pastor of the church, officiated. Theresa Gehringer was organist and John Markett was soloist.

White gladioli, majestic daisies, carnations and candles decorated the church for the occasion.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Alencon lace over bridal satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The voluminous skirt of tiered lace and tulle embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls swept back into a circular chapel length train. Her French illusion veil was shirred to a bridal crown of tulle trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade of white phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Miss Marion Raskowskie of 140 Murray Street served as maid of honor. Her gown was of ice blue chiffon over taffeta. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, oval neckline and brush train. Her headpiece was a matching circlet of petals and leaves and flirtation veil. Miss Raskowskie carried a fireside basket of blue delphinium, roses, snapdragons and ivy.

Miss Lorraine Clancy of 51 Third Avenue served as attendant. Her gown was of shell pink chiffon over taffeta. The gown was fashioned with fitted bodice and oval neckline. Her headpiece was a matching circlet of petals and leaves to which was attached flirtation veil. She carried a fireside basket of white delphinium, roses and carnations at her feet.

Donald Diamond of 100 Fairview Avenue, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Brothers of the bridegroom, Charles Diamond and Edward Diamond served as ushers.

The bridegroom's nephew, Stephen Diamond of 35 Klingenberg Avenue, served as the child ringbearer.

A reception at The Alpine, Rosendale, was given for more than 135 guests.

The bride was graduated from Kingston High School and is employed by IBM as a switchboard operator. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, served two years with the U. S. Army, and is now employed with IBM.

For her wedding trip to Cape Cod, the bride wore a white dress with blue embroidered flowers and white and blue accessories. She also wore a corsage of feathered carnations and blue delphinium.

Mr. and Mrs. Diamond will reside at 147 Henry Street.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT VINCENT HOFFAY
For Jacqueline Grube and Robert V. Hoffay

Exchanging nuptial vows on Sunday, July 19 at 2 p. m. at St. Joseph's Church were Miss Jacqueline Marie Grube, daughter of Mr. and Mr. Francis Grube of 49 Harwich Street, and Robert Vincent Hoffay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hoffay of 160 Tremper Avenue.

Officiating was the Rev. William Williams, assistant pastor. It was a double ring ceremony. Mrs. Frank Rafferty was at the organ. Robert Gallo sang "Ave Maria," and "Mother at Thy Feet Is Kneeling."

White Gladoli decorated the church for the occasion and white ribbon marked the family pews.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of rosepoint lace styled with fitted bodice, long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and a modified Sabrina neckline.

The full skirt of lace and shirred tulle terminated in a circular chapel length train. A bridal crown of starched lace trimmed with seed pearls secured the fingertip French illusion veil.

The bride carried a prayer book with a white orchid.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Janice Benicasa of 15 Ulster Street, was the honor attendant. She wore a gown of queen blue taffeta and white marquise, styled with a fitted bodice, abbreviated sleeves and a full floor length skirt. She carried a basket of pink and white roses.

Marie DeCicco of 4 Kingston Street, and Thelma Hahan of 230 Greenkill Avenue, served as bridesmaids. They were gowned in azure blue and white marquise identical in style to the honor attendant's. They carried baskets of mixed pink and white flowers.

Linda Serra of 164 Third Avenue was the flower girl. She was attired in a gown of azure blue sprigged with tiny pink rosebuds. She also wore a matching crown of seed pearls. Miss Serra carried a basket of pink and white flowers.

Charles Hoffay was best man for his brother. Ushers were Samuel Benicasa of 15 Ulster Street and Edward Bruck of 37 Down Street.

The bridegroom's brother, William Hoffay, was child ringbearer.

A wedding reception was given at the Capri.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Kingston High School. Mr. Hoffay is employed by IBM in Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Cape Cod, the bride wore a black and white dress with white accessories and a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffay will reside at 198 Harwich Street.

Yonetti-Ferguson Wedding Is Announced;
Ceremony Takes Place at Rosendale ChurchMR. AND MRS. GEORGE W. FERGUSON
(Galati photo)

Miss Judy Marie Yonetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yonetti of Bloomington, exchanged marriage vows with George W. Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ferguson of Wallkill.

The ceremony took place on Saturday, July 11 at 3 p. m. at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale with the Rev. John J. Curry officiating. It was a double ring ceremony.

James Sweeney was organist and his wife soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a silk chantilly lace gown styled with fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The gown had long fitted sleeves ending in points at the wrists. Her bouffant skirt terminated in a cathedral train. A headpiece of pearls secured a silk net veil. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Style of the gowns worn by the honor attendant and bridesmaids were full length white starched chiffons with pink embossed flowers, fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. The gowns were accented with taffeta cummerbunds and matching underskirts. The backs were draped in a very full bustle effect. Headpieces consisted of crowns of pearls and sequins and circular veils.

Miss Audrey Boucher of Rifton, the maid of honor, wore pink. The bridesmaids, Patricia Moore of Woodstock, and Marilyn Kane of Highland, wore blue.

Serving as junior bridesmaid was Maria Yonetti, the bride's sister.

Charles Ferguson, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Arnold Wager of Wallkill and Richard Backofen of Wallkill.

Child ringbearer was John Kane of Highland.

A reception for more than 175 guests was given at The Alpine.

The bride was graduated from Denby High School, Detroit, Mich., and is employed by the Kingston Trust Company.

The bridegroom is employed by the Beneficial Finance Company of Newburgh. He is an alumnus of Wallkill High School, Wallkill.

For her wedding trip to the Jersey shore the bride wore a beige sheath with matching accessories.

The couple will reside in Newburgh when they return.

Your Refrigerator

To keep your refrigerator spotless and sweet smelling, wipe interior walls with a solution of two tablespoons of soda to one quart of warm water. Following this simple tip, and others given by Ann Que Brown in the August issue of The American Home, you can assure better service and longer life to your refrigerator or freezer.

Be careful how you use hot water, abrasives, or scouring pads. They can damage the coating used on trays to keep the ice cubes from sticking! A wooden spoon or plastic scraper is best for removing excess frost, not a sharp metal tool which can damage the freezer compartment. Appliance wax will keep the finish of your freezer or refrigerator gleaming through many years of hard use. "For vacation periods of three or four weeks, it is not necessary to turn off the refrigerator," says Miss Brown. "Simply remove the perishable items."

Safety tip: "If you are no longer using an old refrigerator, freezer, or ice box, remove the door or latches. It takes only a few minutes and may save a child's life.

An early wedding is planned.

Robert H. DuMond, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Chester DuMond Jr., Ulster Park, has been accepted for admission to Clarkson College of Technology, Potsdam. Kenneth A. Nourse, Director of Admissions, said Mr. DuMond will enroll in the fall as an industrial distribution student.

Mr. DuMond is a graduate of Kingston High School.

Select your best family photos and frame them yourself, says the Home Projects Editor. Try covering a mat and frame with marbleized paper; when dry, spray with shellac. Make mats from copper building paper and frame with narrow black striping. Cut frames from expansion metal sprayed your favorite color.

This is the best time of year to set out many of your favorite garden plants—no need to wait till spring!

Mid-August to mid-September is the ideal time to plant iris, peonies, daylilies, and other fleshly-rooted, spring or summer-flowering hardy perennials. It's also a good time to transplant daffodils, tulips, and other spring bulbs. In all but the coldest states, you can plant or transplant both needle and broad-leaved evergreens. And, if it's more convenient for you, lilacs, forsythias, mockoranges, and other spring-flowering shrubs, as well as many balled-and-buried trees, can be planted or transplanted now.

Newly set plants, as at any time of the year, should be kept well watered (but not soggy) unless there is plenty of rain. This is especially important with trees and shrubs. As winter ap-

HIS WIFE FEELS SLIGHTED

Dear Mrs. Post: Although Mother's Day has long since passed, I'm still in the doghouse for not having sent my wife a Mother's Day greeting, so in order to clear the air I am writing to ask you to settle the issue once and for all. A little over a year ago I, (a widower) married a widow in the early sixties. She had one son who was killed in the last war. She thinks that I should have remembered her on Mother's Day. I have always been of the opinion that this was a day set aside for children to remember their parents in some special way. Maybe I'm wrong and not up on things but to me it seems silly for a husband to send a card stating, "To my wife on Mother's Day" and have never done so. Will you please tell me if my wife is justified in feeling slighted?

Answer: I agree with you that your wife had no valid reason for feeling slighted.

Giving a Check

Dear Mrs. Post: The son of a friend of mine is being ordained into the priesthood and I have been invited to the church for his First Mass and the dinner afterwards. I intend to give him a check. Would it be proper to mail the check to him at his parent's house, with a card, a few days before, or would it be more proper to hand the check to him personally, at the dinner?

Answer: It would be much better to mail it to him.

Keeping a Guest Book

Dear Mrs. Post: When we moved into our new house, we were given a "Guest Book." I would like to know how many times the same guests should be asked to sign the guest book? Is it just the first visit of every time they stay with us?

Answer: This depends upon your own choice. If you want to keep a record of all visits paid you, then guests should sign every time; if you merely want to keep a record of the many persons who have stayed with you, they sign once.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-15, entitled "Manners in Public," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

100 People Attend Boice-Davis Family Reunion on July 19

The Boice-Davis family reunion was held on Sunday, July 19, at Lawton Park, Kingston, with exactly 100 persons attending the gathering. People traveled to the reunion from West Davenport, Halcyonville, Shokan, Hurley, Cotterill, Downey, California and the surrounding Kingston area.

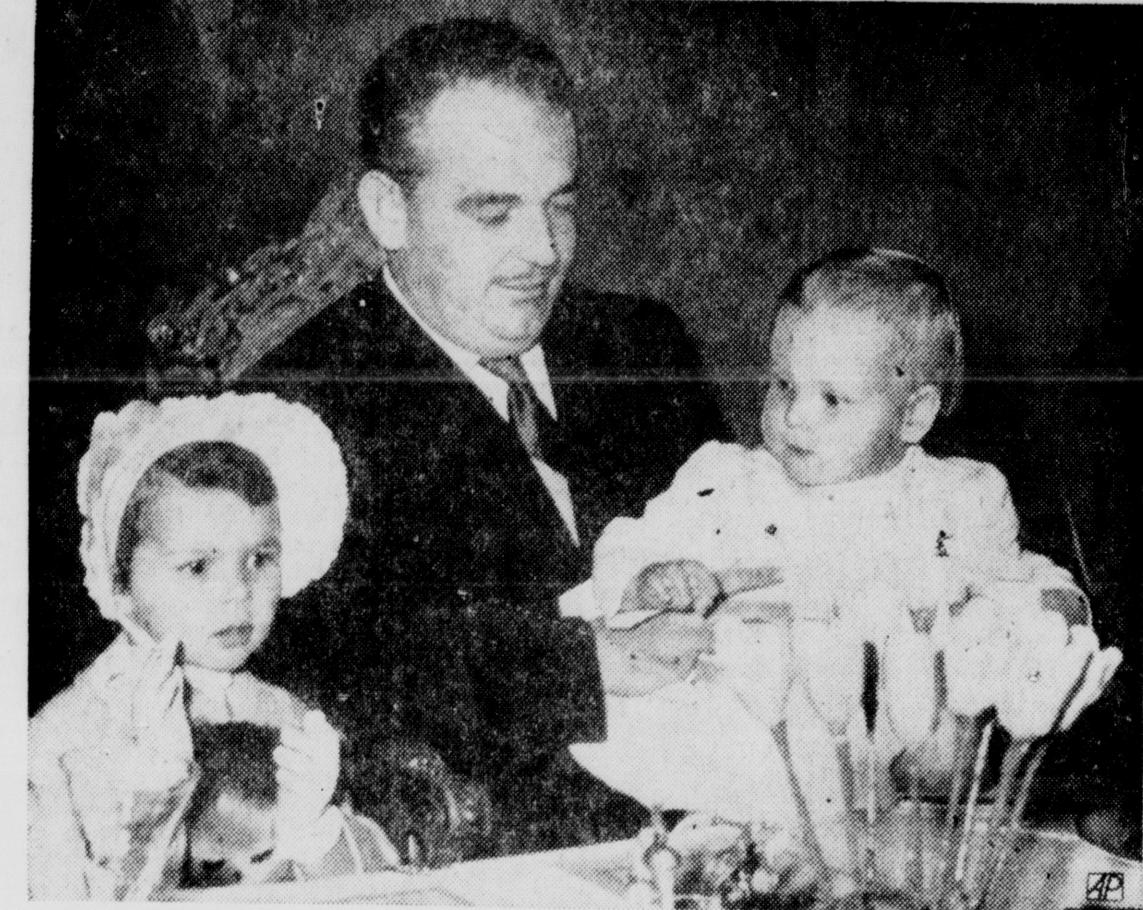

Mrs. W. Griffin, postmistress at Halcyonville; Pratt Boice, president of the Ulster County Savings Bank; Horace Boice, former county treasurer and Lemuel Boice, a Republican committee man for about 22 years, were among the notables attending the reunion.

A "museum" room which contained many relics from the Civil War and Civil War days was open to the group. Among the articles exhibited was a woolen bedspread woven in Delhi and quite a number of old quilts, one of which was made by Roy Baldwin in the time of George Washington.

Also in the museum were old coins and bills, books, pictures, daguerrotypes, old Ulster County letters, and a variety of beautiful and valuable items.

Robert E. Haines was chairman and expressed his gratitude for the wonderful support given the reunion. He also extends his thanks to all those who so kindly loaned items for display in the "museum," and also those who worked on the reunion committee.

Pratt Boice announced at the reunion that the annual Boiceville reunion would be held on Labor Day at Boiceville. All families who were evacuated from the area when the Ashokan reservoir was built and the descendants are invited to attend.

Summer Theatres

Gershwin Festival At Tanglewood Thursday, August 6

The highlight of this season's Tanglewood-on-Parade on Thursday, August 6, will be a Gershwin Festival concert in the Tanglewood Music Shed, performed by the Boston Pops Orchestra under the direction of Arthur Fiedler. The gala concert, which will take place at 8:15 p. m., will climax the annual benefit for the Berkshire Music Center, the summer school of music at Tanglewood, Lenox, Mass.

The noted pianist, Earl Wild, will be soloist with Mr. Fiedler and the Orchestra in two Gershwin selections, the Piano Concerto in F and Rhapsody in Blue. The program will open with an American in Paris, followed by Piano Concerto. During the second half of the concert the Pops Orchestra will perform a Symphonic Picture for Orchestra from "Porgy and Bess" arranged by Robert Russell Bennett. The Rhapsody in Blue will be followed by the concert's closing number, "Strike Up the Band."

Events of Tanglewood-on-Parade will open at 4 p. m. with a concert in the garden for box and reserved seat holders, and a demonstration by the Tanglewood Study Group in the Barn for all ticket holders. At 5:45 p. m., a grand fanfare will open the evening's program. Concerts will be given by the Berkshire Music Center student orchestra, the Tanglewood Choir and the Composition Department. During the supper hour, when picnics are enjoyed by the many visitors, a choral concert will be presented on the porch of the Main House.

Bostic and Marks Are Eliminated At Troy Course

Defending Champion Ousts Bostic, 3 and 2

George Hughes of The Twailf-skill Club was the lone Kingston survivor in the first round of the New York State Amateur golf tournament which got underway Wednesday at the Troy Country Club.

Hughes turned back Don Cowles of Glens Falls, 3 and 2, and was scheduled to meet Frank Malaro of Knoilwood in today's second round.

Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck held defending champion, John Konsek of Cheektowaga even through the first nine, but lost to the Big Ten champion of Purdue, 3 and 2.

Dr. Rocco Impaglia of Auburn, one of the veteran topnotchers on the State Amateur circuit, eliminated Ronnie Marks of Wiltwyck, 2 and 1.

Konsek told reporters after winning over Bostic that his game was "sluggish," although he played even par for the first 16 holes of the 18-hole round. A run of three pars and a birdie after the turn spelled victory for the champion.

John Snyder Loses

One of the major first-day casualties was John Snyder, Jr. of Troy, Snyder, winner of the recent Troy Invitational, had putter trouble and lost 3 and 2, to Anthony Lositro of Elmira.

Another tournament favorite from Buffalo, 21-year-old Walker Cupper Ward Wettlauter breezed to the second round by defeating John Agnew of the Powelton Country Club, 7 and 6.

Former champion Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, seeking his eighth state title, crushed his opponent, Arthur Mettelman of New Hartford, 8 and 7.

The day's longest match was fought for 22 holes between William Bogle of Poughkeepsie and Walter Mack of Ballston Spa. Bogle won it with a birdie-4 on the fourth hole of their third round.

A field of 128, playing over the 6,419-yard, par 71 Troy Country Club course, was halved after the first round of play. The tournament runs through Sunday.

Other results involving well known area players:

Lou Witt, Jr., Albany, defeated William Garner, Red Hook, 2 up.

Pearne Billings, Syracuse, defeated James Peeler, Dutchess, 4 and 3.

John Adler, Southern Dutchess, defeated Al Delano, Plattsburgh, 3 and 1.

John Cwik, Poughkeepsie, defeated Edward O'Donnell, Bellvue, 2 and 1.

William Richmond, Jamestown, defeated Joseph Hreny, Poughkeepsie, 6 and 5.

Owen Mandeville, Mamaroneck, defeated Jerry Cariffe, Poughkeepsie, 3 and 1.

Lawrence Warren Jr., Newburgh, defeated John H. Hause, Albany, 2 up.

John Kowal, Gloversville, defeated Wesley Van Benschoten, Poughkeepsie, 2 up.

Stanley Kowal, Utica, defeated James Peeler Jr., Poughkeepsie, 6 and 4.

Henry Kowal, Poughkeepsie, defeated Thomas Hovey, Valley View, 4 and 3.

John C. Moynihan Jr., Troy, defeated Roy C. V. High, Coopersburg, 1 up.

Braves Seek 'Revenge' Win Against Nyack Nine Saturday

Avila Checks Braves' Slump Indians Respect The Yankees

First NL Homer
In 9th Inning
Tops Reds, 5-4

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Avila, the American League transients, has found a home with the Milwaukee Braves.

At 33, the little infielder found himself shuffled off to Baltimore by Cleveland last winter. The Orioles used him here and there, even in the outfield, then packed him off to Boston. Then, after the better part of 11 seasons in the AL, he was peddled to the Braves Tuesday.

At the moment, the only question about that deal in Milwaukee minds is why they didn't make it sooner. It was Avila who finally put an end to the Braves' losing string at seven Wednesday night with his first National League hit—a two-run homer in the ninth that beat Cincinnati 5-4.

The home run hoisted the Braves back into third place, 3½ games behind the San Francisco Giants, who beat St. Louis 6-1. Second-place Los Angeles slipped 1½ games back in a 7-2 pasting by the Chicago Cubs.

Last-place Philadelphia skidded Pittsburgh to fourth 11-4.

The Braves may have lost third baseman Eddie Mathews, the NL home run leader with 29, however, while finding that long-sought second baseman in Avila. Mathews drove in a run with a single, but had to leave the game because of a bruised hip after crashing the fence in pursuit of a foul pop.

Young Mike McCormick (9-7) won his fifth in a row and ended the Giants' slump at three with a six-hitter against St. Louis. He had the cards blanked on four hits until the ninth, when Alex Grammas singled and Hal Smith tripled.

Earl Averill's second grand-slam homer of the season touched off a seven-run second inning for the Cubs, making it a breeze for rookie Bob Anderson (6-7). The young right-hander had a five-hitter.

The Phillies smacked 19 hits and had a 7-2 lead within four innings at Pittsburgh, scoring two on Ed Bouchet's homer off reliever Benjie Daniels after starter Ron Kline (7-9) failed to survive the second inning.

Avila Checks Braves' Slump Indians Respect The Yankees

Welders Beat Locals on Forfeit Three Weeks Ago

Jack Vahl, who claimed a forfeit game against the Kingston Braves three weeks ago when the Braves had trouble finding the Nyack diamond in Congers, will bring his Welders into Dietz Stadium Saturday night for a New York-New Jersey Baseball League contest. Game time is 8:30 o'clock and if there were ever an attraction Kingston wanted to win, this is it.

The still struggling champs, down 4-0 after five innings, knocked the Indians out of first place for the third time this season and the second time in a week with an 8-5 victory at Cleveland Wednesday night.

That plunked the Indians a full game behind the Chicago White Sox, who climbed back on top with a 5-4 decision over Boston.

Detroit regained fifth place from Washington by beating the Senators 6-2. Kansas City edged in half a game of the sixth-place Nats with a 6-3 victory over Baltimore's third-place Orioles.

The Yankees have won 9 of 16 games with the Indians this season and four of the last five. They're now within a game of third place.

Kingston offered two bona-fide excuses to Vahl.

In the first place, Fred Davi said his players had trouble finding the park. Though Nyack is the name of the club, the diamond is in Congers, outside the city of Nyack. Secondly, Coach John Puhle was involved in an accident in Nyack and the players were delayed at the scene of the mishap for several minutes.

According to Davi, his club arrived at the ball park not later than 3:10, or 40 minutes after the scheduled start of the game. He was told Nyack had won on a forfeit, which according to league rules, was strictly legitimate.

At a stormy league session one week later, Vahl defended his action as in the best interests of the league. He also said his refusal for playing at least an exhibition game after the forfeit was declared was because his players were at the field most of the day and many of the wives were ready to leave after the forfeit.

Own 3-3 Mark

The Welders have split six league engagements. Kingston has a 4-2 mark and is still in the pennant picture, especially since the locals have another meeting with league-leading Poughkeepsie. This race figures to go right down to the wire.

It is expected that Bob Maines, who has not been too sharp in recent appearances, will pitch for Kingston. Bob has been handicapped by a lack of steady work. He hurled six innings last Saturday and settled down after a rocky start. With Maines in his best form, Kingston should stay in the thick of the pennant chase all season.

Several key players are crippled by injuries and the Yanks still are in fourth place, 6½ games behind the league-leading Chicago White Sox. Before Wednesday night's 8-5 victory that topped the Cleveland Indians from first place, Stengel called a clubhouse meeting.

He told newsmen not to be surprised if center fielder Mickey Mantle shows up at shortstop and catcher Yogi Berra at second base.

"Might have to use 'em there," Stengel said. "Way things have been going, I might have to use anybody any place."

Mantle played shortstop his first two years in pro ball and Berra played about 20 games at second base his first year," Stengel continued. "It's not in the records, but I know he did."

"You saw that pitcher Don Larsen hit. I've been thinking about him in the outfield. And that fellow (John) Blanchard says he'd rather play first base than catch."

"I can even use (pitcher Bobby) Shantz in the infield. He's like a cat and he can probably play the infield better left-handed than some of them right-handers do."

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Casey Stengel, the New York Yankees' master juggler, is considering some more moves. If he makes them, they are sure to raise eyebrows.

Marionettes and Martians Featured at Colony Center

Marionettes, martians and color music are on this week's schedule of events, in addition to the regular series of art appreciation lectures, dance and writers' workshop to be seen at the Colony Arts Center on Rock City Road.

Mildred Osgood's Marionette Theatre will be brought from the campus of State Teachers College, Montclair, N. J., and set up for a three-day visit, with an evening performance tonight at 8 and matinees on Saturday and Sunday, July 24-25.

As part of the marionette program, Miss Osgood will show a 20-minute color film, titled "Jonathan's Magic," a marionette story which she produced. Those attending will have an opportunity to examine the unusual air-borne creatures which Miss Osgood has created and which are distinguished by their use of new materials and lightness, which permits greater freedom of movement and complexity of detail. Numerous children's camps in this area have indicated their intention of bringing large groups for the matinee performances.

One of the most pleasing paintings to this viewer was a delicate watercolor in which huge boulders project vertically from a chasm of mist, an exquisite dream-like dwarf pine clasping one of the rocks with its roots.

Also attracting unusual interest among visitors is a small painting entitled "Sea Mist," in which a group of fishing vessels float groping in a silvery and mysterious fog of an intense purity quality.

Wingate, whose work is attracting wide comment and interest, also had a one-man show of his paintings in 1958.

The viewer is struck by the range of Wingate's talent, which embraces realistic landscapes of the picturesque mountains and valleys of the Woodstock area, delicate and sensitive watercolor work drawn from the imagination, strange and exotic landscapes which are the purest type of creative "Never Never Lands," other subject matter rendered in the most modern mode and with a highly modern feeling, such as a night study entitled "City Lights," and certain pen and ink drawings which are cousin german to the cartoon.

Speed Conviction Reversed Because Advice Not Given

A speeding conviction against a prominent Tivoli man has been reversed by Columbia County Judge William E. J. Connor because of testimony that a peace justice had not advised him that his driver's license would be jeopardized if he pleaded guilty.

Chandler A. Chapman, wealthy publisher and member of the board of education, pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding last August 31 before Justice of the Peace Lewis Lasher of Germantown. Chapman appealed the conviction through R. Waldron Herzberg, Hudson attorney.

The reversal by Judge Connor was based primarily on testimony by Columbia County Deputy Sheriff Dow Hoyer, who arrested Chapman on the speeding charge as he was returning from a dairy meeting in Rensselaer.

The principal issue in the appeal was whether Chapman, either directly or indirectly, was lulled into a belief that a plea of guilty would not jeopardize his operator's license.

According to Judge Connor, the law provides that a peace justice must inform the defendant of the possible loss of his driver's license if he pleads guilty. He cited similar cases in which convictions had been set aside.

Shrubs Near Outdoor Lights in Jeopardy

Trees and shrubs near outdoor lights are a mid-summer's night dream for nocturnal insects. Asiatic beetles, and June bugs which work and play at night and hide during the day are attracted in hordes to illuminated areas around homes, stores, offices buildings.

Then they feast on close-by flowers, shrubs, small trees. In a single night they can do severe injury to foliage, according to Edward J. Duda, entomologist of the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories.

Moderate attack cause rasping of foliage; heavy attack leads to complete destruction of leaves.

Foundation plantings near dooryard lights, those close to floodlit barbecues and any shrub or tree in an outdoor illuminated area need special attention in midsummer—until August 15. This is the time nocturnal insect destruction is at its height. Spray with malathion or arsenate of lead. Repeat the application twice during the summer.

Chief night insect offender is the abundant Asiatic garden beetle, dull chestnut brown in color. It also preys on strawberries, vegetables and dahlias, asters and chrysanthemums.

29 German Seamen Fished From Water

NAGOYA, Japan (AP)—Twenty-nine German seamen who jumped off the fire-swept oil tanker Helma Ente in fear of an explosion were fished from the sea today.

Capt. K. E. Toepfer and 21 other crewmen stayed aboard and brought the fire under control. The blaze broke out after the 12,630-ton German tanker was rammed by the 6,890-ton Japanese freighter Shofuku Maru in fog at the entrance to Ise Bay, 210 miles southwest of Tokyo.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices generally poked a shade higher early this afternoon. Turnover ran at a moderate rate.

Trading interest focused largely on motor shares, sending most about a point higher. Some steels, electronics and aluminum also ambled ahead.

Losers speckled the list. Many gained a point or more. The chemical, rubber and tobacco groups showed a number of lower issues.

Chrysler led the active motors by running up more than a point. General Motors and Ford gained nearly a point. American Motors sagged about half a point after the company declared a 60 cent dividend.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube racked up about two point gain. Jones & Laughlin, following news of record first half earnings, climbed almost 1.

In a strong aluminum group, Alcoa and Reynolds Metals both picked up more than a point.

National Distillers moved ahead close to 2 after the company lifted the dividend and reported higher first half earnings.

Vick Chemical soared about 3. Goodyear sank more than a point while Goodrich dropped about half a point. American Tobacco and Lorillard each slumped more than 1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon gained 40 cents at $223.30 with industrials up 40 cents, rails up 80 cents and utilities up 10 cents.

Skunk Not Welcome At Official's Home

Joseph Betley Jr., chief agent of the Ulster County Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, responded to a call received about noon today from the home of Alderman-at-Large Harold L. Kaye, 125 Emerson Street.

On arrival at the residence, Betley was told that a young skunk was roaming around the premises and its presence was not welcome. Betley caught the baby skunk by the tail and hastened him to the SPCA vehicle for a ride to the shelter where it will be kept for a while.

Pollen Sampling Units Open Aug. 3; Ulster Has Four

A 16-station pollen sampling network will be opened August 3 by the New York State Air Pollution Control Board. Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, state health commissioner and board chairman announced today.

To Report Daily

Thirteen of the state stations will make daily pollen counts available to residents of the state. Three other stations will not make daily reports, but figures from these will be published in an annual ragweed pollen index and made available to the public. Last year, only six stations participated in the network.

Reports of conditions in Ulster County areas will be reported in the Freeman as soon as when they are available.

Dr. Hilleboe said that reports from the state stations will provide a guide to pollen concentrations in the atmosphere and help hay fever sufferers chart the progress of the hay fever season.

The daily pollen count will be made available to newspapers, radio and television stations. In most cases, the sampling stations and pollen counting will be conducted by personnel of local health departments.

Poughkeepsie to Report

Stations will be set up in Albany, Batavia, Belmont, Cobleskill, Corning, Fire Island, Hornell, Ithaca, Montauk, Niagara Falls, Poughkeepsie, Schenectady, Troy, Tupper Lake, Warsaw and Yonkers. Those at Fire Island, Montauk and Schenectady will

U. S. Steel Chairman Hopeful Industry Stand Will Halt Wage-Price Inflation

By NORMAN WALKER

NEW YORK (AP) — Can the steel industry stop wage-price inflation in America?

Roger Blough, the industry's top leader as board chairman of United States Steel Corp., is dubious. But he says it's sure worth a real attempt.

"You never know until you try," Blough said in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press. "We think some good will come of it."

Job Up to More Than One

Blough relaxed easily as he discussed issues in the nine-day steel strike with a reporter at his corporation's plush skyscraper offices in New York's financial district.

"I don't think any one company or industry can do this job of stemming inflation," he said.

He noted that other industries have been granting hefty wage boosts this year.

But he voiced a hope that "depending upon the outcome of our stand" in steel, other employers will lend a hand in resisting inflation.

The bargaining stalemate that led to the steel strike is rooted in the industry's position that it won't give up any new wage and benefit increases to members of the United Steelworkers unless there are offsetting labor cost savings.

Asked if the steel industry intends to maintain that stand, Blough said, "That certainly is our purpose."

Not Just Wage Freeze

Blough said it wasn't a matter of freezing wages throughout the nation. What steel wants stopped, he said, is the constant increase in employment costs—the industry's total labor bill.

There's a difference, he said. At U. S. Steel, for example, individual employees have a chance to increase their earnings through incentive payments and promotions to better jobs.

Not Considering Cut

How about a steel price cut if steel labor costs are stabilized?

Joint Talks Are Set for MondayIn Steel Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal mediators have arranged the first joint peace talks in the nine-day-old steel strike for next Monday.

But Joseph F. Finnegan, head of the Federal Mediation Service, reported that he sees no early solution to the strike which has idled more than half a million steelworkers.

Aluminum Balks

Meanwhile, the three top aluminum companies — Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser — rejected the United Steelworkers wage demands and lined up with the steel industry stand. The Steelworkers' contract with the aluminum companies expires July 31.

The aluminum companies followed the pattern of the original proposal by the steel producers to the union by urging the union to accept a one-year wage freeze and give up the cost-of-living escalator provision in the old agreements.

A total of 30,500 aluminum workers are represented by the union. About 28,000 other aluminum workers are covered by other unions.

After meeting Wednesday with union representatives and twice with steel industry negotiators, Finnegan said: "We feel we now have a better orientation on the differences" between the two sides.

To Meet Mitchell

He plans to meet today with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell in Washington.

Mitchell is acting as a fact-finder for President Eisenhower, who could halt the strike—at least temporarily—at any time through emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley law.

Union negotiators had hoped that making some gains with the aluminum companies might set a wage pattern for steel. The union had asked a 15-cents-an-hour package in each year of the new contract. Aluminum wages now average $2.91 an hour.

The steel strike started July 14 after weeks of unsuccessful negotiations during which the industry turned down demands for a 15-cents-an-hour annual package. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour. The companies said increases would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union said steel profits are big enough to cover a wage increase.

The strike has idled about 45,500 workers in related fields such as coal, railroads, trucking, shipping and construction. The strike has cost an estimated 400 million dollars to the industry in business and to strikers in wages.

Castro to Let People Decide

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today said he will decide Sunday whether he will become premier of Cuba again. He gave every indication that he will resume the office.

"We'll let the people decide on the 26th of July," he told a crowd of about 10,000 in the 17,000-seat Sports Palace. That means Castro will announce his decision to the cheering throng at the anniversary celebration Sunday of the start of his revolution against ex-dictator Fulgencio Batista.

There was no doubt the "people's decision" would be for the revolutionary leader's return to office. The million-member Cuban Confederation of Workers has called a one-hour general strike today to demand he withdraw the resignation he submitted Friday to force President Manuel Urrutia out of office. And his half a million peasant supporters called into Havana for Sunday's celebration are certain to shout for his return to the premiership.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Movie Star James Stewart at long last won promotion today to brigadier general in the Air Force reserves.

By voice vote and without a word of debate, the Senate finally approved the promotion which has been bogged in controversy since 1957.

The long delay was due chiefly to opposition from Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) who questioned that Stewart, a World War II combat pilot, had put in as much time as he should have at reserve duties.
